

Worth Careful Thought

Do you read the label to know whether your baking powder is made from cream of tartar or, on the other hand, from alum or phosphate?

Royal Baking Powder is made from cream of tartar, derived from grapes, and adds to the food only wholesome qualities.

Other baking powders contain alum or phosphate, both of mineral origin, and used as substitutes for cream of tartar because of their cheapness.

Never sacrifice quality and healthfulness for low price.

"THE HIDDEN JOOLS."

Mrs. Aubrey Cosar, writing from the Hughes Alliance special train de luxe, or as Henry Waterson says, "au gratin, comme il faut de reguier et cetera," has this to say:

"Inside the station, at carefully planned intervals, were young women bearing banners with anti-Hughes sentiments inscribed, and so much has been said about the jewels, furs, feathers and general opulence of expenditure of the women traveling in the Hughes special that a shock must have been experienced by the anti-Hughes forces when the fifty rather severely gownned women wended their way through the station."

But what does it amount to if the little sisters of the Big Business hide their "jools" while tripping across the continent? One does not wear a diamond necklace with a pear-shaped pearl pendant as large as an alligator, or a pair of alligators, and an Aphrodite coming-out-of-the-sea gown, when traveling on a "nosty" railroad train. It would be "au gratin" or "lynnaise" — to follow the mood of Marie Henry — even quite altogether "pomme de terre" to do so. But come into the garden (party)

Maude, and see what the de luxe ladies special wear when the occasion warrants putting on logs, and taking off collarettes. — Frankfort State Journal.

PORTRAIT OF GOV. STANLEY IN STATE'S HALL OF FAME.

Painted by Pasquale Farina, the Noted Artist of Philadelphia.

The portrait of Gov. A. O. Stanley, painted by the noted Philadelphia artist, Pasquale Farina, was hung in the rooms of the State Historical Society Monday. It occupies a position by the portrait of George Washington which was restored by Farina. Pasquale Farina brought with him also a portrait of Mrs. Jennie C. Morton, regent of the Historical Society, which was hung in the Kentucky Hall of Fame. The picture occupies a position by the side of General Helm.

THE MILLENIUM IS COMING WHEN—

Your neighbor brings back your borrowed books.
Your cook gets 'round in time to get breakfast.
Your dear friend forgets to remind you of your faults.
Your other dear friend forgets to borrow a "V."
That other friend pays back three or four "V's."
Your husband does not tell you of the biscuits "mother used to make."
Your wife does not keep you waiting until you are late for the show.
Your grocer does not work off stale vegetables on you.
Your banker says nothing about "cold" checks.
Your pastor doesn't remind you where you are going, etc.
Your creditors tell you you needn't pay.
Your husband doesn't go to the lodge every night in the week.
We won't have any troubles to tell the policeman.
We won't have any policeman to tell our troubles to.
None of us will want to be President.

ENTER, MADAME.

Women will play a part in the election this fall. Not only in the states in which they can vote but also in the states where the ballot is still denied them, will they be heard. That they will be granted the suffrage is a foregone conclusion. And why not? Are they not as well qualified to cast an intelligent ballot as the men? Are they not as pure in thought, as high in ideals and as full of integrity? It is only the men who fear their potentialities that want to deny them the ballot.

We have never believed that all the good things which it is claimed will come about by their having the ballot, will happen. They will be absorbed by the old parties and their identity will, in a measure, be lost. They must play the same tune that the band is tooting or else their instruments will be taken away from them and they made to go home and practice. However, they will have something to say about the music that the leader selects or else there will be a row that will outdo the Tower of Babel.

We welcome you one and all. Come in and make yourselves at home.

Straw Vote.

The Cincinnati Enquirer's straw vote shows Wilson and Hughes a running nip and tuck in Ohio, Hughes a slight lead in Indiana, Wilson a big favorite in West Virginia and Hughes not in it in Tennessee. Well informed people say that Wilson is dead sure to carry Ohio, while Indiana is confidently claimed for Wilson. Reports from New York say that the Democrats will carry the state by at least 100,000 and that Hughes money is shy when bets are offered. Everything seems to be working together for those who love the Lord.

OCTOBER

There's not a nook within this solemn pass
But were an apt confessional for one
Taught by his summer spent, his autumn gone,
That life is but a tale of morning grass
Whither at eve. From scenes of art, which chase
This thought away, turn, and with mirthful eyes
Feed it 'mid nature's old felicities.
Rocks, rivers and smooth lakes more clear than glass
Untouched, unbreathed upon. Thrive happy guest
If from some golden perch of aspen spray
October's workmanship to rival May.
The pensive warbler of the ruddy breast
This morn' sweeten with a heaven-taught lay.
Lulling the year, with all its cares, to rest.
—Woodworth.

Alpha Xi Delta at University.

The Alpha Xi Delta Fraternity entertained on Friday from 5 to 8 p. m. with a dance in Buell Armory at the University of Kentucky.

The ball room was decorated with the fraternity colors, red, white and blue and gold, with streamers of bunting festooned from the beams, to the central lights, golden rods and autumn leaves. Bowers with palms, ferns and draperies were arranged at each end of the hall with seats for the chaperones and those not dancing, and also for the table where frappe was served.

Music was furnished by a saxophone trio and a buffet supper was served at 8 o'clock.

The hostesses were the members of the Xi Chapter and the alumnae and the affair was one of the most delightful of the season.

Among those present were: Active Chapter—Misses Margaret Tuttle, Ruth Weathers, Stella Pennington, Jane Dickey, Mildred Graham, Robbie Douglas Wilson, Zula Ferguson, Austin Lilly.

Alumnae—Misses Elizabeth Waddy, Mary K. Venable, Lila Estes, Kathleen Sullivan, Norah Hamilton, Anna Wallis.

Chaperones—Dr. and Mrs. Tuttle, Mrs. Roger Jones, Mrs. Sullivan, Mrs. Grant E. Lilly, Mrs. Henry S. Barker, Captain and Mrs. Fairfax, Dean Anne J. Hamilton, Miss Hopper, Mrs. Poreh, and Miss Thomas.

Guests—Misses Duncan Foster, of Richmond; Nan Crawford, of Louisville; Ella Hamilton, of Frankfort; Zerelda Noland, Katherine Tucker, Ethel Fletcher, Genevieve Moloy, Anne Katherine Christian, Anne Molloy, Dorothy Middleton, Margaret Wilkinson, Emma Vories, Jane Crawford, Elizabeth Poreh, Juliet Riquie, Virginia Helm Milner, Virginia Croft, Virginia Gray, Mary Stephens, Robert Green, Maude Asbury, Pauline Irvin, Margaret Lair, Ada Hardesty, Lillian Grundy, Amy Dietrich.

The other guests were about one hundred and fifty men, students of the University representing the various fraternities.—Lexington Leader.

Woman's Club

The Woman's Club is deeply indebted to Mrs. Waller Bennett for the very delightful program given by her department on Monday afternoon.

The meeting was opened by the president of the Club, Mrs. Charles A. Keith, and after the usual routine business, the chair was turned over to Mrs. Bennett who gave a brief talk on her travels last winter. She then introduced Mrs. Arthur Yager who, in her graceful manner, gave a beautiful and poetic description of the "Vegetation of Porto Rico." She was followed by Miss Maude Gibson, one of our most versatile writers, whose subject was "Landscape Gardening." Mrs. Gibson Volkins, whose love of flowers and beautifully kept lawn makes her an authority on such matters, next read a paper on "Flower Gardens of England."

Having lived in that land, her subject was treated in a style unusually interesting and entertaining.

Mr. and Mrs. John Steele announce the engagement of their daughter, Adele, to Mr. Allen Zaring. The marriage will be solemnized November 15th. The event will be very quiet, only immediate relatives being present.

Wednesday the D. A. R. State Convention was held in Louisville, continuing through Thursday. Mrs. Christopher D. Chenault made the response to the speech of welcome, given by Mr. Thurston Ballard. Mrs. Chenault, who is a gifted and brilliant woman, is the former State Regent and also the Regent of the Boonesborough Chapter at this place, being its founder. Elsewhere in this issue is her address in full, an address of which we all feel justly proud.

Mr. Creed Simpson and Miss Lena Schaefer were married on Wednesday afternoon at three o'clock by Dr. E. C. McDougale. The young couple are well known here. Mr. Simpson being formerly connected with the tobacco buyers, and Mrs. Simpson, whose home is in Garrard county, has often visited here. They left immediately after the ceremony for a short bridal trip.

Miss Margaret Parrish entertains on Tuesday afternoon with a Luncheon Bridge.

Prof. and Mrs. Chas. A. Keith were in Lexington Saturday to attend the educational meeting.

Governor and Mrs. Yager and Miss Diana Yager have been the guests of Mrs. James W. Caperton this week.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. McGaughey attended the Grand Opera in Lexington Thursday night.

Miss Lucile Gibbs is making a month's visit in Lexington with friends.

Mrs. Jennings Maupin is in Paris for a visit to her sister, Mrs. Williams.

Mrs. Sam Jones was in Versailles Monday to attend the funeral of her cousin, Mr. Raymond Lannen.

Mrs. A. R. Burnam is in Louisville attending the D. A. R. Convention as a delegate of the Boonesborough Chapter.

Miss Duncan Foster reached home yesterday from Lexington where she has been the guest of Miss Austin Lilly.

Mrs. Grider reached home today after a visit to Frankfort.

Mrs. Hart, of Richmond, Va., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Thos. D. Chenault, Jr.

Mrs. William Watts and Mrs. Thos. Bryant, of Lexington, leave for their home today after a visit to Mrs. H. M. Blanton.

Mrs. Douglas Parrish is visiting Mrs. S. J. McGaughey.

Mrs. Harry Blanton was hostess of the Cecilia Club on Wednesday afternoon at her home on Breck avenue.

The subject of the program, a most beautiful one, was "Russian Song Writers," and the following members took part: Mesdames I. G. Ballard, Leslie Evans, Paul Barnum, B. L. Middleton, T. D. Chenault, Jr., M. C. Kolliga, Harvey Chenault, S. J. McGaughey and Miss Mary D. Pickels.

The outside guests were Mrs. Wm. Watts, Mrs. Thomas Bryant, of Lexington, who are with Mrs. Blanton; Mrs. Hart, of Richmond, Va., who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. T. D. Chenault, Jr., and Mrs. Douglas Parrish, the guest of Mrs. S. J. McGaughey, and Miss Diana Yager, the guest of Mrs. Paul Barnum.

Prof. Bridges, Caneer, Robinson and Miss Anderson, of Caldwell High School, attended the educational meeting in Lexington.

Mrs. W. H. Grider is visiting friends in Frankfort.

Mr. James Denny, of Paint Lick, was the guest of Mr. Alex Denny for the Ollie James speaking.

Mr. Wm. Inall has had as his guests this week, his father and mother from New York City.

Mr. and Mrs. Lilly were the guests of their daughter, Miss Austin Lilly, for the grand opera Thursday evening.

Mrs. D. B. Shackelford and daughters, Misses Elizabeth and Callie Miller Shackelford, left this week for Washington City.

Messrs. Clay Kaufman, Alex Doty and Green Clay Walker, of Lancaster, came up to hear Ollie James' speech Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Devore are expected home this week.

Mrs. Lewis Neale, Mrs. Lewis Weisenburgh, Mrs. Neale Bennett and Miss Ruth Barnes motored to Lexington to attend the grand opera.

Mrs. Bettie Embury Mills, who has been visiting relatives in the county, and friends at her old home near Mt. Zion church, has returned to Louisville.

President T. J. Coates and Mrs. Coates went to Lexington Saturday to be present at the educational meeting. They were accompanied by their sons, Myers and Aaron Coates.

Misses Lorie and Roy Millon, Cynthia Davison, Miree McDougale, Mary G. Covington, Lillian South and Ruth Barnes formed a motor party to Lexington Thursday to attend the opera.

Miss Minnie Dunn, of this city, had charge of the Western Union telegraph office at Stanford while Mr. Stewart Carson, the regular operator, was a member of the house party of Miss Johnnie Ashill.

Mrs. Mary W. Sullivan and Miss Kathleen Sullivan, head of the department of Home Economics of the Eastern State Normal, attended the educational meeting in Lexington Friday and Saturday.

On Wednesday, October 18th, a beautiful little daughter arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Chambers, on Lancaster avenue. She has been given the pretty name of La Roydon for her mother. With other friends we extend hearty congratulations.

Mrs. Chandler, the wife of the new pastor of the Methodist church, arrived last week. They will go to housekeeping in the parsonage in a few days. Their son, Mr. Stenigale Chandler, paid them a short visit the first of the week. He has been in the Marine Corps for the past eighteen months. Recently he passed the examination for Second Lieutenant. Quite a fine record for a twenty-two year old boy. He will return to Washington by Thursday and on Friday sail for San Domingo.

Miss Hester Covington, of Lexington, spent the weekend with her parents in this city.

Miss Ella Griggs, who is teaching near Palmyra, is at home to see her niece, Miss La Roydon Chambers, who arrived last week.

READ CAREFULLY

Treasury Department, U. S. Public Health Service.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 25.

Dear Sir:

On account of the shortage in the paper market it has become necessary to curtail the mailing list for the Health News. If you desire your name to remain on the list please notify the undersigned at once. Failure to receive an affirmative reply promptly will be taken as evidence that you no longer wish the Health News.

Respectfully,

From this you see that Uncle Sam is getting economical and he gives the reasons for it. IT IS THE SHORTAGE OF PAPER.

For this reason we, too, are compelled to discontinue all complimentary papers which we have been sending to former employees of this office and ministers.

A famine in paper is predicted.

All in Mr. Sterling who enjoyed an acquaintance with Hon. Dan M. Chenault were grieved when the news came that he had passed away at his home in Richmond, after a long illness, during which everything possible was done for the sufferer, but to no avail.

Mr. Chenault was about 56 years of age and was a member of one of the largest and most influential families of Madison county. He was twice married. His first wife, who preceded him to the grave many years ago, was a Miss Barnett of Madison county, and to this union two children were born, a son and a daughter, both of whom survive him. About 12 years ago he was married to Miss Elizabeth Reid, daughter of the late Hon. J. Davis Reid, of this county, who survives him.

It was a pleasure to know and have the friendship of Dan Chenault. An interesting conversationalist, genial, gentle and generous, he had the faculty of attaching to himself by ties of warm affection, those with whom he was thrown in contact, and in a wide circle he will be mourned and missed. A gentleman in the broadest sense, courteous and considerate of all, he was a favorite in every walk of life, and greatly beloved and esteemed. The idol of his devoted wife and children, their grief cannot be measured. He was closely related to the Chenault family of this county. —Mt. Sterling Sentinel-Democrat.

Xenophon Irvine, a well known colored man of this city, died Monday night at about 11 o'clock. He was taken ill that morning and grew rapidly worse until the end came. He was a quiet, unassuming man of gentlemanly manner and industrious. He is a son of Mrs. Bettie Irvine, a well known colored woman of this city. He is survived by several brothers and sisters. His sister, Bettie, is a teacher in the colored high school.

The funeral was held Wednesday under the auspices of the colored K. of P. Lodge and was large attended. Handsome flowers covered the grave.
